

There is no hard evidence cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments on aircraft. Cell phone use would enable terrorists to coordinate a terrorist act more effectively. The NPRM would leave it up to flight attendants to police the use of cell phones on the aircraft compromising our ability to maintain a safe, secure cabin environment and to conduct emergency evacuations. It would also make an already tense cabin environment that much more stressful. VERY, VERY bad idea aproving the use of cell phones in the aircraft. It would prove to be highly disruptive.
